Early Records of Outlaws

Court of Quarter Sessions. Town of Kingston, Mecklenburg District.

Mon 12 October 1759.

A complaint having been made by Elizabeth Vansickler, against John Carscallion, Alex. Chisholm and Alex. Clark of Fredericksburg for each of them detaining one of her children, and they having been duly summoned to appear at this session to show cause why the said children should not be delivered to their mother, and being duly called did not appear.

The Court having duly examined into this matter find that although the said children were bound by the Church Wardens^① of Fredericksburg under the sanction of James Clark and George Singleton, Esqs., from humane and laudable motives, yet the business was not strictly legal and further that the considerations on the part of the said John Carscallion, Alex. Clark and Alex. Chisholm were not sufficient, they being under no obligation to give the said children any education or instruct them in any trade, and the said binding was without the knowledge or concurrence of the father or mother of said children, they do therefore, order and adjudge that the said Alex. Chisholm, Alex. Clark and John Carscallion, do each of them, forthwith, restore to the said Elizabeth Vansickler the child he has in his custody; - and further they order that the said Elizabeth

VanSickler after receiving the said children to depart this district by the 20th day of November next. This is indeed the ground on which she requests the restoration of her children; and it does not appear that she has the necessary means of supporting them. ⁽²⁾

The justices having ordered the sheriff of this district of Mecklenburg to see that their order in favor of Elizabeth VanSickler is duly executed, do adjourn this court until Tuesday, the 12th day of January next

- ①. It may be observed that both the action of the Wardens and the criticism of it by the Magistrates are based on English civil law and custom, which however, had no place as yet in Canada.
- ②. Elizabeth remained, however, as we find her soon after a witness for the defence of a vagabond named McCarty.

Wednesday 13th April 1790

Elizabeth VanSickler a distress for the defendant, in the case of Charles Justin McCarty charged as a vagabond, imposture and disturber of the peace.
